John Miller had come with his widowed mother, his brother Wm. and 2 sisters from Scotland to Vermont, U.S.A. From there the 2 brothers came to Upper Canada. Wm. in 1820. settled first on Lot 5, Con.6, Ching.W., which was afterwards owned by his brother. Wm. in 1850 lived on Con.6, Lot 6, Ching.W. In 1819 John received O.C. for above lot in Ching.W., and worked on his farm in the summer and taught school in Queenston in the winter. His wife stayed in Queenston with her family until 1821. John aided in the building of the church at Norval. 9 of his greatgrandsons served in the Great War and 5 of them were killed.

MILLER

Ham. Hist

VOL. IV. July 29th, 1881 (con't).

Chinguacousy, near Norval, it seems to me may be interesting to your readers.

Mrs. Miller was a daughter of the late Mr. John Chisholm, a U. E. Loyalist, whose Canadian residence was on the Queenston Heights, Niagara. As she was born in 1796, and resided in the same place up till 1821--therefore throughout the whole period of the war between Great Britain and the United States, beginning in 1812--your readers will be prepared to hear that many and remarkable, and often very trying, were the incidents of her early life. Of these, however, Mrs. Mill was not wont to speak, except to old acquaintances who possessed some personal knowledge of them or in response to the solicitations of friends. When she did speak of them, it was certainly not in terms expressive of admiration, either of the bravery or the generosity of the invaders. The writer remembers how she was wont to tell of hearing them boast on their arrival in the morning, and of beholding them driven, ere the day had closed, over the heights and into the river; and how she was wont to speak of being compelled to witness their reckless destruction of the property of the inhabitants of the district--alike in house and field.

It was always in the spirit, and often with expressions, of gratitude to God, that Mrs. Miller spoke of her preservation amid the great dangers to which her life was exposed during those troublous times.

VOL. IV, July 29th, 1881 (con't).

Sometimes, it is true, the safety of the family of which she was a member, and of the families in the same neighbourhood, was sought by flight into the interior of the country. On such occasions the fugitives were wont to conceal their most valuable things--which could not be carried with them--usually by burying them in the ground. Sometimes these treasures were found again; sometimes they were not. But flight was not always possible. Hence she of whom I write, in the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth years of her life, was not infrequently in positions of peculiar danger--even at times between contending armies. Her danger and her providential deliverance on one such occasion, seemed to have made a deep impression upon her mind. She had gone one morning, on business, to the house of a neighbour; as she returned, a body of American soldiers, who had crossed the river during the night preceding--and at the time lay concealed in the adjoining bush--supposing she had discovered their presence, and fearing, doubtless, she would give information thereof, by two of their number pursued and arrested her. Whilst the soldiers, holding each an arm of their youthful prisoner, were leading, or dragging, her across the field, the yell of Indians in the British service was heard; a few minutes more and soldiers and prisoner had reached the fence, already one of the soldiers had mounted it, when a ball from an Indian's musket pierced his head (I believe) and instantly killed him. The other soldier preferring personal safety to the security of his prisoner quickly left Miss [illegible] free. Thus saved of God, by the instrumentality of Indians, she ever cherished and manifested in words and deeds, very kindly feelings toward them. ...

Interview with Mr. W. H. Ruttlege
Pt. Credit. 6 July/38

My mother's father John Miller (?) was the first of his family to settle in Canada, and my mother was a child.

My father served in the Mackenzie Rebellion, as a soldier

I showed horses there that were later taken to the Centennial in Philadelphia, and took prizes there. I am still showing horses. This year I have already taken five first prizes.

I showed at Claireville Fair, and there won 3 firsts, driving them myself. I got 1st prize for the best pair of horses, and two other firsts.

On the 24th of May I showed at Richmond Hill, and got 1st prize for the team.

Again at Aurora I got first for the team.

In all my fifty years experience, I have never driven into the ring that I did not come out with a prize. I have shown horses at the Ex in Toronto many times.

My father's grand-father settled in Kingston, and when my father came up to the farm in Ching, and settled near Churchville, they had to chop their farm out of the bush. My mother used to ride horse-back over a blazed trail.

Obituary

J. Harvey Miller

On Sunday morning, March 5th at the home 'way! of his brother William at Elkhorn, manitoba there passed away in the person of J. Harvey Miller, one of the most widely known of our citizens. Although retaining until the last that keen interest in political and municipal affairs, which had been one of his chief characteristics. Funeral service, conducted by Rev. F. C. Pe~~c~~apover, was held at the home on Tuesday, March 7th, followed by interment at Elkhorn Cemetery. His brother, Mr. Wim. Miller is the only survivor of the family. (Elkhorn post master for many yrs)

The late J. Harvey Miller was born at Norval, Ont., in September of 1851. After finishing his education at Owen Sound grammar school, he assisted his father with the work of the farm, finally purchasing and farming land of his own. During that time he was elected a councillor for his township and in 1890 was made census enumerator for the Peel County removing at the same time to Streetsville where he opened up and successfully operated a real estate and auctioneering office for the next five years. He came west and settled at Elkhorn man. in 1895 and immediately became engaged in farming and in the agricultural implement business, adding to his activities, later on, the duties of an auctioneer, and for a number of years prior to his death filled the position of real estate agent in the district for the General Assets Ltd.

His experience of Municipal business, gained in the east, was soon called upon when he became better known, and after serving as councillor for Wallace Municipality, his services were requestioned by the village where he filled for some years the position of councillor, his ability finally gaining his election as Mayor.

MILLER - (U.E. thro' Chisholm)

John Miller (1798-1879), with his widowed mother, a brother and several sisters, emigrated from Sterlingshire, Scotland, to Vermont. The sons came to Upper Canada and John taught school at Queenston.

In 1816 John married Janet Chisholm (1796-1881), daughter of John Chisholm, U.E., and sister of Jane Chisholm who married Josep~~t~~h Silverthorn in 1807.

(SEE STORY IN JOHN CHISHOLM FILE RE JANET BEING CAPTURED DURING WAR OF 1812 AND RESCUED THROUGH THE INDIANS).

In 1836 John Miller obtained the Patent for 100 acres Lot 5 Con.6 Chinguacousy West. However, as early as 1822, records show that John had located this land - had it well cleared with 8 acres under crop and a house built.

Janet remained in her hold home (Queenston) until 1821 when the new one was ready for her; her eldest son, James, was born at Queenston in 1818.

A log school was built on a corner of Miller's farm, and the building of the first church at Norval was due to the efforts of John Miller and two of his friends, one a Mr. McNabb (John's eldest son James married Harriet McNab).

In 1877 James (John's son) purchased part of Lot 10 Concession 6, Ching W.

Another son of Janet, Chisholm Miller, (1824-1855) surveyed the 4th line of Chinguacousy and in 1852 became Deputy Provincial Surveyor.

Another son, William, became the first schoolmaster in Norval. In 1880 William is shown purchasing a small part of land on Lot 6, Con.10, Chinguacousy West.

A grandson of Janet, John Harvey Miller (son of James) served as Councillor for Chinguacousy. In 1890 was Census enumerator for Peel -- and operated a real estate and auctioneering office in Streetsville for a number of years. He later joined his brother William at Elkhorn, Manitoba, where he became Mayor. John Harvey purchased land on Lot 6 Concession 6, Ching. West in 1875.

Nine great grandsons of Janet served overseas during the Great War; five of them were killed.
